Subject: Stamford University Bangladesh's stance of allowing political activities in the campus.

Contacts and communications from various agencies have been made to know about Stamford University Bangladesh's stand on allowance of political activities in the Campus. We recognize the glorious contribution and role of the students' community since our Language Movement in 1952 to the culmination of our Independence in 1971.

Stamford University Bangladesh is a nonpolitical and a non-profit organization. It does not allow any political activities in the campus.

However, members of the University can express their political views outside the campus. Usage of Stamford University's logo, name and any of its brand identities for any political activities or purposes are strictly prohibited. Stamford University Bangladesh cherishes research, academic excellence and co-curricular activities which have been fixed as its mission and goal.

Best regards.
